The policy underlying Penal Code section 11105.3 (Background Checks) is to ensure safety of youth and children who participate in after-school and summer programs. All programs involving youth participants must ensure that program staff obtain the required background checks prior to beginning work.

The University requires “Live Scan” background checks for individuals who will be working with minors, including both Stanford-run programs and those operated by outside organizations on Stanford’s campus.

A protection of minors policy has been established to safeguard youth under the age of 18. To learn more about the policy, visit our website https://protectminors.stanford.edu
